The Dragons

Welcome to the lair of The Dragons! Children in this classroom are 5 – 12 years old. The ratio is 1 – 20 and we have one to two teachers depending on enrollment. They enjoy spending time together playing board games, experiencing science in many forms, art projects and many more activities.

We have two different schedules. The first schedule is during the school year. The second is vacation time from school and summer break.

During the school year we greet them in the morning and serve breakfast if they haven't eaten at home. They have free play or finish any homework from the day before. When it is time to get ready they gather all their belongings from the coat room and line up. A teacher walks them to the bus and waves goodbye. After school the teacher meets them at the bus stop and walks them back to the classroom, where they hang up their belongings and wash their hands. There is approximately 20 minutes of free play before we offer snack to everyone. Homework time is next (approx. 20-30 minutes) and it is a dreaded, but necessary time for the kids, it is helpful to the parents too. We offer help and look over their final problems but we are not tutors and we have 20+ friends to help. We look forward to the nice weather so that we can play outside on our playground until parents come to pick up.

Summer time is an active time. We have morning free play and projects until 9am snack time. Our lesson plans reflect our daily events. Each day there is a club to join. In the past we have had sewing, woodworking and cooking to name a few. We have also have had Friday lemonade stands with goods baked by The Dragons. They have created a large carnival of games and manned them for the preschool and toddler friends to join the fun. We go on weekly field trips to explore new and exciting places in the Quad Cities and surrounding areas and we go to a different park each week to each lunch and play. Our summer camp tends to fill up quickly and we typically have 26 children enrolled and have two teachers. There is so much fun to be had that you might want to skip work and join us!

Summer enrollment starts in March, so be sure to secure your child's spot early by calling the director.
